

If I am running a chemical reaction based system that is highly exothermic when producing clean hydrogen, and gather this exothermic energy to produce clean power, can I take production tax credit on the hydrogen and the power production. The complete process utilizes and produces zero carbon except for the lifecycle CO<sub>2</sub>e of our renewable feedstock.