Re: Notice 2022-58

Secretary Yellen,

I am writing to urge you to ensure the hydrogen production tax credit does not become a driver of increased pollution in frontline communities.

Only renewably produced hydrogen has any role in a just transition. The hydrogen production tax credit must be a tool to direct funding towards renewable hydrogen rather than greenwashing scams. This tax credit should not subsidize hydrogen producers trying to cheat the system with mechanisms like scam offsets and unbundled RECs, which are thinly veiled attempts to shift pollution into frontline communities rather than produce truly clean hydrogen.

Manufacturing hydrogen from any dirty energy is even worse for the environment than just burning the energy directly. Already, fossil interests are using vague promises of blending hydrogen with fossil gas as justification to continue investing in gas capacity – further embedding fossil infrastructure rather than transitioning us away.

What's more, frontline communities that already must deal with the worst of fossil pollution are being targeted for a massive build out of government subsidized fossil hydrogen production and pipelines. This is unacceptable for our climate and our responsibility to ensure a just transition towards renewable energy.

The Biden Administration must ensure that clean energy tax credits like the hydrogen production tax credit align with Justice40 and Biden's commitment to center Environmental Justice. Treasury can do the right thing for both our climate and communities by ensuring that fossil fuels and other polluters can't play shell games with their emissions in order to qualify for more taxpayer money.

Thank you,
